

MEMORANDUM

To: Interested Parties
From: Wes Anderson and Sam Kay, OnMessage Inc
Date: April 2024
Re: POLL Release: Missouri Attorney General Republican Primary Election

Summary

OnMessage Inc is pleased to share results from a recent survey taken in Missouri consisting of 600 Republican Primary voters. The survey’s focus was on the Republican primary election for Attorney General. The results of the survey show that incumbent AG Andrew Bailey holds a strong lead. Bailey’s ballot share is 49% and he has a whopping 37-point lead over his opponent. He also enjoys a 70% job approval rating among the primary electorate.

MO AG Primary Ballot

Thinking about the 2024 Republican Primary election for Attorney General of Missouri, if the election were held today and the candidates were (ROTATE) Andrew Bailey and Will Scharf, for whom would you vote?

Job Approval Andrew Bailey

Thinking about the job that Andrew Bailey has done as our Attorney General, would you say you approve or disapprove of the job he has done?

Methodology

The following survey was conducted by OnMessage Inc. in Missouri. Live telephone interviews were conducted through landline and cellphone on April 22-25, 2024. This survey consists of 600 likely Republican primary voters and was stratified to reflect historical turnout. The margin of error for this survey is +/- 4.0%.
